Montana wheat shipped to out-of-State destinations during the 1978 wheat marketing year (June 1978-May 1979) is estimated at 140.2 million bushels--including unaccounted disappearance. This represents 89 percent of the available supply. Use in the State for feed, seed and flour amounted to 16.7 million bushels.

In the 1978 marketing year, 105.8 million bushels of Montana wheat were shipped to the Pacific Northwest--including an allowance for unaccounted disappearance. Pacific Northwest flour mills used 21.5 million bushels and 84.3 million were exported from Pacific Northwest ports. By comparison, in 1977 flour mills used 19.9 million bushels and 70.7 million were exported.

Montana wheat accounted for 48 percent of the Pacific Northwest exports in 1978--a decrease of 9 percentage points from 1977.

Montana wheat shipped to out of State destinations in the eleven-month period (July 1975 - May 1976) totaled 116.5 million bushels. This represents 89 percent of the available supply. Use in the State for seed, feed and flour amounted to 13.6 million bushels.

In the 1975 marketing year, 92.3 million bushels of Montana wheat were shipped to the Pacific Northwest--79 percent of all wheat shipped out of the State. Pacific Northwest flour mills used 16.9 million bushels and the remaining 78.6 million were exported to foreign destinations. By comparison, in 1974 (12-month period July 1974-June 1975), flour mills used 17.1 million bushels and 68.5 million were exported to other countries.

Montana wheat accounted for 66 percent of the exports from Pacific Northwest ports in 1975--up 7 points from the 1974 portion of 59 percent.

MONTANA

During the 1973 wheat marketing year (July 1, 1973 - June 30, 1974) 91.5 million bushels of wheat were shipped out of State according to the Montana Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This represented 83 percent of the available supply (beginning stocks, plus production, less ending stocks) during this period. An additional 12.8 million bushels was used for flour seed and feed in the State.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST MOVEMENT: For the 1973 marketing year, 83.6 million bushels of wheat were moved to the Pacific Northwest--of which 21.6 million bushels were ground for flour in Oregon and Washington, and 62 million bushels (74 percent) were exported from Pacific Northwest ports. This compares with 96.9 million bushels shipped to the Pacific Northwest in the 1972 marketing year--21.5 million bushels for flour and 75.4 million bushels exported.

Montana wheat comprised 34 percent of "red wheat" exports from the Pacific Northwest in 1973. This percent was down sharply from earlier years due to the heavy movement of red wheat from CCC stocks and other areas to meet the large foreign sales that period.
